

You will overcome
Even if I'm sewn
Deep inside your dream like seams
And your weary heart
You will feel a little stronger next year

You will overcome
Even if I'm torn
Even if this tear drop feels way too familiar
You will be a little stronger next year
You will overcome

Rising sun
What have I done?
Show me all the dreams I had when I was younger
Leaking from the faucet
Returning in a sonnet

So tread carefully
Take a fucking breath for me
And don't you dare tell me
You were always there for me

So tread carefully
Take a fucking breath for me
And don't you dare tell me
You were always there

Our time is precious lunar rose
And I cannot expose
My self hiding conflict
Nobody is perfect
Nobody is perfect

You will overcome
Even if I'm sewn
Deep inside your dream like seams
And your weary heart
You will feel a little stronger next year

You will overcome
Even if I'm torn
Even if this tear drop feels way too familiar
You will be a little stronger next year
You will overcome

And we will live always
Inside our stories
We will live always
Inside our stories

So tread carefully
Take a fucking breath for me
Don't you dare tell me
You were always there for me

So tread carefully

Take a fucking breath for me
And don't you dare tell me
You were always there

We will live always
Inside our stories
Like a souvenir of yesteryear
Remember me for the man I used to be

This world wasn't made for me
It wasn't made for me

We will live always
And even if I come undone
You will overcome
You will overcome

I think the memory
Is the very best part of me
This skin is not mine
These bones are not my own
And you will overcome
(You will overcome)

I think the memory
Is the very best part of me
And you will overcome
(You will overcome)

I think the memory
Is the very best part of me
And you will overcome
(You will overcome)
