

Worlds Collide

Saviour

I'm never waiting for you
Could I have stood still if you were someone else?
I never wanted to choose
Like these were footsteps to elevate myself
So decorate my views
I'll separate myself from everyone I have ever let down

You are the scar
From a thorn
Forever linger

Your wishful words still linger
Your wishful words still linger

Don't dare follow my footsteps
Cause I'm not the person you knew yesterday

So decorate my views
Separate myself from you
Funny how these walls seem to speak
Only when we are alone

There's silent worlds inside me
Breathtaking places I can't let you see
A lock with no key
Withholding secrets you will not believe
Trapped under my skin
I guess I never really let you in

Your wishful words still linger
Like a time bomb
Shockwave through my brain
And echo through my bones

So carry on
Cause I am not the one
Cause I am not the one

Your wishful words still linger
Cause I am not the one
So carry on, carry on
Cause I am not the one
Your wishful words still linger
Cause I am not the one
So carry on, carry on

There's silent worlds inside me
Breathtaking places I can't let you see
A lock with no key
Withholding secrets you will not believe
Trapped under my skin

I guess I never really let you in
I've buried worlds inside me
Collapsing places you will never see
A lock with no key
Erasing stories you cannot retrieve

Trapped under my skin
I guess I will never let you in

There's worlds colliding under my surface
Making me nervous
Every single day
As I push you away
