

Better Be Some Tears

Sawyer Brown

Some other fool with his head in the clouds
Might let you get away with what you done
But not me, Baby, not me
You fall out of love and now you're comin' around
Any time you want to get back on
We'll see, Baby, we'll see
I won't be waitin' here forever
Right now I'm tellin' you

There better be some tears
I wanna see some cryin'
Now you do a little dying
To show me you're sincere
There better be some tears
After the way you left me
Baby if you wanna get me
To let you come back here
There better be some tears

I don't want to hear another feeble excuse
About how anyone can make a mistake
What's new, Baby, tell me what's new
You can tell me a lie or you can tell me the truth
It doesn't really matter what you say
It's what you do, Baby, it's what you do
You say you want me more than ever
Why aren't your eyes a little wetter

There better be some tears
I wanna see some cryin'
Now you do a little dying
To show me you're sincere
There better be some tears
After the way you left me
Baby if you wanna get me
To let you come back here
There better be some tears

I'm gonna wait until you start comin' unwound
I wanna be there when the walls come a tumblin' down
And if you really got a heart in there
Baby if you really care

There better be some tears
I wanna see some cryin'
Now you do a little dying
To show me you're sincere
There better be some tears
After the way you left me
Baby if you wanna get me
To let you come back here
There better be some tears