

There Was A Time

Sawyer Brown

I hear you calling my name
The sweet sounds of yesterday
When there was love and I was in it
Oh but seeing you this way
I hear the words I didn't say
I see it way too late

There was a time I used to hold you
I should have told you
There was a time
I see your face, and it reminds me
There was a place
There was - there was a time

We're here and all I can think of is the way we used to be
How could I take for granted
The chance you took on me
You with your heart out on your sleeve
The heart that I still need

There was a time I used to hold you
I should have told you
There was a time
I see your face, and it reminds me
There was a place
There was - there was a time

They say time changes everything
Time never stays the same
So tell me why do I still feel this way

There was a time I used to hold you
I should have told you
There was a time
I see your face, and it reminds me
There was a place
There was - there was a time
