

Dressed In Black

Saybia

Dressed in black
with a rose in my hand
I now understand I kept you for as long as I could it's time to let go

I stare into your watery eyes
as you wander off into the light
I watch though my eyelids were closed
as my memory capture the sight

I'm breathing though a part of me died it doesn't seem right I'm standing as life lingers on it's time to move on

I stare into your watery eyes
as you wander off into the light
I watch though my eyelids were closed
as my memory capture the sight

as you wander off into the light
I watch though my eyelids were closed
as my memory capture the sight

as you wander off into the light
I watch though my eyelids were closed
as my memory capture the sight

one day
with a rose in my hand
I'll see you again see you again
