

No Sound from the Outside

Saybia

I want you
I want to share this moment with you
No excuses
No second thoughts, no holding back

Put your head on my shoulder
As if I carried you
From the car to your bed in your sleep

Don't you remember that feeling
When there was no
No bottomless pit and no ceiling

I needed someone to stand by my side
That was you that was you
I needed someone to carry my weight
That was you that was you
I needed someone to hold in my arms
that was you, was always you, you

I want you
I want to spend this night with you
No solutions
No planning, no thinking twice

Just to feel our bodies
Weightless floating
As we glide through the night and make love

See the light on our skin
Torn across
When the sun comes up in the morning

I needed someone to stand by my side
That was you that was you
I needed someone to carry my weight
That was you that was you
I needed someone to hold in my arms
that was you, was always you, you

How can I ever repay you
Without setting things straight
I've got so much faith in this moment
There is so much love in this room

Thank you for waiting forever
Thank you for staying around
You don't hear a sound from the outside
When you're caught in the eye of the storm

How can I ever repay you
Without setting things straight
You don't hear a sound from the outside
When you're caught in the eye of the storm
