In This Scene You're Just An Extra

Search The City

The hard times are getting harder It's colder where you are You wonder, would it kill me to call?

I've already made you too many promises I never meant to keep But that's just a side of me I wish you never had to see

I took a shot in the dark But I came up short I swear to God this time it's gonna hurt

Can we pretend that it never even happened? I will sing myself to sleep 'Cause you've made a liar out of me

Can we pretend that it never even happened? I will sing myself to sleep 'Cause you've made a liar out of me

I watch my shadow stretch from my feet Like the way we stretch the truth I wish I could play the victim for you

I just needed room to breathe My world collapsed on me And I miss screaming off rooftops in New York City

I took a shot in the dark But I came up short And I swear to God this time it's gonna hurt

Can we pretend that it never even happened? I will sing myself to sleep 'Cause you've made a liar out of me

Can we pretend that it never even happened? I will sing myself to sleep 'Cause you've made a liar out of me

This isn't my confession But I'm coming clean I knew it was just a matter of time Before this all would catch up with me

Can we pretend that it never even happened? I will sing myself to sleep 'Cause you've made a liar out of me

Can we pretend that it never even happened? I will sing myself to sleep 'Cause you've made a liar out of me

Can we pretend? 'Cause you've made a liar out of me?

Can we pretend that it never even happened?

I will sing myself to sleep 'Cause you've made a liar out of me