

If I Came Back For You

Seaway

...And it's my fault
My fault that I waited.
My fault I was faded when I knew you.
I let you sink, I let you curve,
I let you slip with unsaid words.
I watched the spark that you had for me die right in front of me.
I take small steps to get my best and forget,
Who you are, kid.

Here's to hoping that
I can live with myself
Here's to hoping that
Here's to knowing that
I'm still right here.

So I'll keep my head straight
And wander through life,
Hoping you saved a place for me.

And maybe you'll go there
To ponder sometimes
On the nights we came so damn close.
I bet you won't. I bet you won't.

I'm still right here.

Here's to hoping that
I can live with myself.
Here's to hoping that
Here's to knowing that
I'm still right here,
Without you.
