

One Day (In Your Life)

Secret Affair

One day, you may have it all your own way
And live the life you choose
And think you understand
The meaning of it all

But don't close your eyes
There's a whole wide world
Just waiting for you

Where is the moment you were waiting for
When you walk through your God's door?
Is it what you've lived your whole life for Life everlasting or darkness ever more?

But don't close your eyes
There's a whole wide world
Just waiting for you

(and I believe that)

One Day, in your life you'll realise
The reason why you're here
One Day, in your life you'll realise
The reason why you're here

Church bells are ringing out for you
The Sunday morning call
To lay your life right down
Your God just takes it all

But don't close your eyes
There's a whole wide world
Just waiting for you

(and I believe that)

One Day, in your life you'll realise
The reason why you're here
One Day, in your life you'll realise
The reason why you're here

Did you ever stop to think about the world as a whole?
Do you ever think about your life beyond your front door?

(and I believe that)

One Day, in your life you'll realise
The reason why you're here
One Day, in your life you'll realise
The reason why you're here
