

My Friend Courage

Sent By Ravens

my friend..the impatient..
i thought i saw you crying..
we seem to wait for the miracles to bring us closer..
then you told me that this could work out..
in faith i believe..
i was standing with this love in line...
will you wait for me...
i'm still waiting send us the strength..
give us the peace we long for...
and down with the fear..send me the words..
so i can speak tonight simple..surprising...
you're pointing your finger..
they're turning away..
but not so this could work out..
will you wait for me...i stopped waiting i become fearless...i become the light
