Prudence

Sent By Ravens

Old birds have opinions They sing and they shout Beautiful songs from the soul That no one cares to figure out I need to know but I'm just a kid And I need room to grow Tonight We go where we wanna go We say what we need to say Even if the long road takes us home Tomorrow's a new day We form our opinions, yeah Call it American But who believes a smile from a child With all of his teeth clinched My feelings show cause I'm just a man And I need room to grow Tonight We go where we wanna go We say what we need to say Even if the long road takes us home Tomorrow's a new day Tonight We do what we have to do We say what we care to say Even if the long road takes us home Tomorrow's a new day Tomorrow's a new day My feelings show cause I'm just a man And I need room to grow Tonight We go where we wanna go We say what we need to say Even if the long road takes us home Tomorrow's a new day Tonight We do what we have to do We say what we care to say Even if the long road takes us home Tomorrow's a new day