

Unmask the Enemy

Seraphim

In her was found the blood of prophets
All who've been slain in the earth
In her was found deception
Nations and kings back and forth
The sailors and merchants
Who used to live inside these walls
Now stand back in fear as they watch the city fall
What horrors did man perform inside this place?
For in a single our it has been laid to waste
Cry out for mercy as your end is near
Scream out in terror as you cry in fear
Everyday you got drunk on the blood of the innocent
Everyday you accepted the wickedness
It will be your judgement
Nevermore will joy be found in you halls or in your homes

Nevermore will voices sing or in your streets the people roam
Forevermore will anguish and pain lie deep within your bones
Forevermore will dust remain of what was left of your stones
The sailors and merchants
Who used to live inside these walls
Now stand back in fear as they watch the city fall
What horrors did man perform inside this place?
For in a single hour it has been laid to waste
Cry out for mercy as your end is near
Scream out in terror as you cry in fear
Everyday you got drunk on the blood of the innocent
Everyday you accepted the wickedness
It will be your judgement