Ride Insane

Sevendust

Uncertain, I ride to calm myself I'm searching for something That gets me out of this place

I need this like the devil needs Jesus Like a war needs treason I've been through hell for a reason I see my life just slipping away Slipping away

Hey, I'm gonna ride insane And at the moment life starts to burn I'm gonna ride this sunset to the grave

Ticking faster, I can see the end I'm reaching out to pull myself up to see again Wait I need this like an angel that's bleeding

Right now I hear the devil screaming We go through hell for a reason I see my life just slipping away Slipping away

Hey, hey, I'm gonna ride insane And at the moment life starts to burn I'm gonna ride this sunset down

Hey, hey, I'm gonna ride insane And at the moment life starts to burn I'm gonna ride this sunset to the grave

What's the meaning of trying to understand Why the feeling's stuck inside of me? What's the meaning of trying to understand Why it always ends up in lies? Lies, lies, lies

Hey, I'm gonna ride insane And at the moment life starts to burn I'm gonna ride this sunset down

Hey, I'm gonna ride insane And at the moment life starts to burn I'm gonna ride this sunset to the grave

Why, why, why, lies?
