

Did you reach for my hand
I'm in no-man's land
I'm confused and I don't understand
Tell me, are you feeling it too
Is it really true
All I want is to share this moment with you

It all started with a heartache
But since you walked into my life
I've been caught in a landslide
Stay until the day breaks
And let us come alive

I'm falling right from the start
There's room for only you and I
No others will keep us apart
You and I, invincible
Through the pain, to the love and the beauty

Could it actually be
That you're here with me
All the wonders that I get to see
I could honestly say
That I'm not afraid
One second with you I would never trade

It all started with a heartache
But since you walked into my life
I've been caught in a landslide
Stay until the day breaks
And let us come alive

I'm falling right from the start
There's room for only you and I
No others will keep us apart
You and I, invincible
Through the pain, to the love and the beauty

I'm falling right from the start
There's room for only you and I
No others will keep us apart
You and I, invincible
I'm falling right from the start
There's room for only you and I
No others will keep us apart
You and I, invincible