

When your own life is in your hands you choose the path to walk upon And soon the past is taking over and you alone must find your way Just like impossible romance Shackled to the underground Way too afraid to take a chance just too afraid of failure

You wrote the lines that define you long ago
All that you need is inside you to leave it all behind

Into a mind set on fire,
We're lost in a maze Facing the memories that'll work to conspire and set us ablaze
Fear is the master,
to lead us astray.
So push darkness away

When that feeling's closing in and panic's creeping up on you Into the river of the broken, fight or flight, you're paralyzed To kill that beast inside your mind and rise above the circumstance Don't walk away, be someone, never let your ghost control you
