

Serenity Torn Asunder

Severe Torture

Decisive, the end result is clear
Our future has come to an end
The tables turned now
Too late for final sacrifice
The Hills of Megiddo are near Relentless, this fury has become the scourge of our supremacy

A silent witness, the bearer of it all
We all succumb to our own destiny

To face the powers that be
We'll end this journey, and see, only,
That the anger never dies
To fuel the hatred we can not see
For we are blind

Notions of vengeance, obsessing the protagonist
We play the lead in this unforeseeing part
Vacate the lies, The parrish of our wounded hearts.

And serenity is torn asunder

I must have died a 1000 deaths
Erase the past

I must have died a 1000 deaths
Erase the past
The pain of life I am obsessed
Blessed be

We play the lead in this unforeseeing part
Vacate the lies, the parrish of our wounded hearts

And serenity is torn asunder

To face the powers that be
We'll end this journey, and see, only,
That the anger never dies
To fuel the hatred we can not see
For we are blind
