Whisper From The Depths

Shade Empire

The depths are calling Dark waters whisper tempting to fall beneath Where no light shimmers

Beneath the surface those sunken eyes stare at to the sky The broken star shines brighter than the others now it's time. The final breath, cold water, fills the tired lungs. Dark veil embraces, your path here is done

Sink in cold womb You are at the gates of your destiny Drive away sickness Drive away death

Beneath the surface The final breath Beneath the surface The final breath

The depths are calling Dark waters whisper tempting to fall beneath Where no light shimmers Where no light shimmers

Sink in cold womb You are at the gates of your destiny Forget yourself and find greater connection Drive away sickness Drive away death Beneath the surface The final breath The final breath