

Kelly's Song

Shawn Mullins

You have never once let me down
Still waiting for me to come around
And I fall in love again
More and more each day
And I know you been so blue
Let my love come light your way

You have always been there for me
Like a clear night when I'm lost at sea
I drift away still you stay
Right here next to me
A constant glow with eyes that know
Where I always long to be

Now I'm in my head once again
What I need right now is my friend
To hold me near, 'til I see clear
One more day begins
Let me one more day begin
