

Sing, Little Birdie

Shearwater

Hey, little birdie, catching my eye
Sing little sweet things into this mind
And tug at my darker side

Fly to the bed where we are confined
Combing the cancers out of our lives
And harness your song with mine

And whose tongue gave you life but mine