

Are You Man Enough

Sheena Easton

I never knew a man who could get me feeling the way I do
I was used to living life by myself
Lovers come, lovers go, anyway the wind blows, that was alright
by me
Now I need to know you care before I share completely

You're man enough, are you man enough
(Man enough) You're man enough, say you're man enough
(You know me by now) To stay with love when the goings tough
(Takes a man) It takes a man to handle my love, that's true
You're man enough, are you man enough
(Had enough) Had enough, have you had enough
(You know me by now) Playing games, playing games with love (Takes a man) It takes a man to handle my love for you

Rich boys, play toys, night light, city life, that was alright
by me
Since the day you came along I look at life so differently

You're man enough, are you man enough
You're man enough, say you're man enough
(You know me by now) To stay with love when the goings tough
(Takes a man) It takes a man to handle a love
And now, you're everything to me
Let me down, you've taken my last dream from me
