

All At Once

Shirley Bassey

Like the world came to be
So your love came to me

All at once you smiled
And music filled the night
All at once you sighed
And the stars rushed out of sight
At your touch of ice within me cried[?]
Be mine forevermore
And your arms your arms are opened wide
And so worth waiting for

All at once we kissed
And water turned to wine
All at once we loved
And the whole worldwide world was mine
For the sweet beginning was the end
So swiftly did I fall
All at once for once and all

For the sweet beginning was the end
So swiftly did I fall
All at once for once and all

Like the world came to be
So your love came to me
All at once for once and all
