

I Must Know

Shirley Bassey

Are you the type of a-gentleman I want to spend my life with?
The kind to share all my happiness, my troubles and my strife with?

Do you have all of the qualities a girl could ever hope for?
Can't rush 'cause the situation is a-one I might elope for

I must know, I must know
Will you be good for me or be bad?
I must know, I must know
The very thought is driving me mad

If you should feel pretty sure of me will you become demanding?
When I decide what is right for us will you be understanding?
Are you content with the simple life or loaded with ambition?
Where is that secret ingredient that's known as intuition?

I must know, I must know
Will you be good for me or be bad?
I must know, I must know
The very thought is driving me mad

Are you the type of a-gentleman I want to spend my life with?
The kind to share all my happiness, my troubles and my strife with?
Do you agree very easily and listen to suggestions?
If I'm the one girl you've waited for, forget the former questions

I must know, I must know
Will you be good for me or be bad?
I must know, I must know
The very thought is driving me mad
