

We

Shirley Bassey

We run together from the darkness
On a yellow August morning
So the warm will make us free

We rise up early in the morning
Just to see the sun come singing
'Til it falls into the sea

Some people live just for tomorrow
Some see as far as today
Some go their own road, some ev'ry known road
And never find their way

But we chase the wind into forever
Past a thousand rainy mornings
And as our love moves into evening
We'll be known as only "we"

Some go their own road, some ev'ry known road
And never find their way

But we chase the wind into forever
Past a thousand rainy mornings
And as our love moves into evening
We'll be known as only "we"
