

Cold Cold Summer

Shontelle

Shiver

I'm walking through this blizzard alone without you
I'm so cold, summer and my heart's frozen

It's 98 degrees outside but I can't feel the sun
The only thing that keeps me warm are these cigarettes and rum
Frozen tears fall from my eyes like icicles in mid July
I slowly start to lose my mind, I'm snow blind in summer time

And oh, his eyes has got me slipin', slipin', slipin'
Chills since you've been gone has got me tripin', tripin'

It's gonna be a cold, cold, cold summer without you
Cold, cold summer, cold, cold summer
It's gonna be a cold, cold, cold summer without you
Cold, cold summer

Weatherman says, good news, go on out and catch a tan
So why am I still shivering I just don't understand
Rainbow in the sky at noon, I'm on the dark side of the moon
And in my world the trees are bare, a hint of snow is in the air

And oh, his eyes has got me slipin', slipin', slipin'
Chills since you've been gone has got me tripin', tripin'

It's gonna be a cold, cold, cold summer without you
Cold, cold summer, cold, cold summer
It's gonna be a cold, cold, cold summer without you
Cold, cold summer, cold, cold, cold
Cold, cold summer, cold, cold summer

Write your name across my windowpane
But the frost covers it up again
When you are by my side we were burning up in winter time
But the flame's gone out now since you went away

It's gonna be a cold, cold, cold summer without you
Cold, cold summer, cold, cold summer
It's gonna be a cold, cold, cold summer without you
Cold, cold summer, cold, cold summer

Rainbow in the sky at noon, I'm on the dark side of the moon
In my world the trees are bare, a hint of snow is in the air
Can't do this without you

Cold, cold summer, cold, cold summer
Looking outside there's nothing but stormy weather
Cold, cold summer, cold, cold summer
