

Walls

Shout Out Louds

You just know it, there's a wall and you just run through it.
You've had too much to drink, and all those telephone bills, but it's worth it.

Victoria, who knew I would end up in Victoria?
I took too many pills and wrote my will just to get to you.
So go

I need a pencil, and a piece of paper, and a lock, and a cage.
Feels so much better now, getting rid of my rage.
But I'm suspicious, are you suspicious? I can't get my mind straight.
I don't see them when I sleep nowadays, so sleep now.
And go

Who knew I'd be the one building all the roads,
to carry the weight and crack of all the codes.
I've got allies, allies who know how to love.
They show you how it looks up there, what it looks like above.
So so go

Whatever they say - we're the ones building walls.
Whatever they say - we're the ones who never say no.
To get to know yourself you've got to run away.
Never trust anyone.
So run away, run, run, run, run, run, run, run.
