Where You Come In

Shout Out Louds

Soon I'll be on my way Time is on my side, I'm blowing away That's where you come in You come in

I never wanted it And I never forced you upon it I never wanted it And I never forced you upon it

Sometimes you give, sometimes you take a little too much Sometimes not enough, not enough Sometimes you give, sometimes you take a little too much Sometimes not enough, not enough

I make plans to leave for the city To stay up all the night, for the sun to greet me But that's where you come in, where the feeling sets in

Sometimes you give, sometimes you take a little too much Sometimes you give, sometimes you take a little too much That's where you come in Where you come in Where you come in
