One Autumn Night Dark silent night, Until the moment, I will never forget, The veil of death, Over my places, Did take them two, The dying bodies I loved, With my own fear, I will disappear, When devils sneer, I will make it clear, They speak to me, So tenderly, Lives that should be, I will never see,