

Seed Of Eternity

Sigh

my hate, my rage; all the anger, all the blame all the feelings that I have bred fade as I am dead my thoughts and my will incinerate in searing flame all the visions come back to me no more tears to shed at the very moment of ecstasy I feel death so expressly death stems from life and life from death it cycles endlessly it was revealed to me all will vanish into the void as my coffin starts to burn I have found out the truth all will vanish into the void as the fire licks my soul the broken strings of my life bless my death please!
I travel to what lies beyond the endless sea it's not what I crave, but after the grave must be a meaning to all that is to be we are all blind! flowers in bloom that I've never seen meadows a million hues of green I hear voices calling my name but where am I?
songs of beauty the birds sing in the wind leaves are rustling through the dark I see the light where am I?
my desire, my lust
they won't just fade away everything will perish in an endless burning blaze my love, my hate; with open arms I'll await the day the days I remember now seem like dreams an illusion without light you should know no matter how I live or how I die, the result will be the same no matter how I live or how I die, only the seeds remain the seeds of hope the seed of an angel the seed of a devil or the seed of nothingness it may be no use denying it, here is the proof nothing else shall remain, only the truth! may it be heaven, may it be hell may it be truth, may it be false may it be death, may it be life may it be shadow, may it be light but the truth should be buried! new dimension, open it's gate! your curious eyes, where life and death collide and for the first time I thought the tears shed were beautiful there must be a cure but a sad cure indeed my blood runs through the vessels then I bleed nothing to fear so I enter the fire my last vestige of life expires a last breath, so deep before endless sleep before my family weeps even after my flesh decays, I'll live on inside of you...
