

Once I'm Gone

Signs of Betrayal

Look to find what is right or wrong
Tried so hard now just letting go
I can only reach so far
Until it all falls apart
Save me now I'm sinking deep
Me my own worst enemy
And all of thoughts inside keep burning and burning
And as I stand on the edge
Falling head over head
No turning back now
No turning back now

Once I'm gone there is no coming back
Would it matter anyway
It just still feels the same
Once I'm gone there is no coming back
Defenseless now with my guard down
Won't you take me away

Scared to stay but yet I'm scared to go
Fight just to fight no reason why I'm Putting myself through this
Had it all let it slip away
Giving up on destiny
If only I kept on pursuing that life long dream
Stand on the edge my reality
Fading away to this safe place
Released emotions that have turned to peace

Once I'm gone there is no coming back
Would it matter anyway
It just still feels the same
Once I'm gone there is no coming back
Defenseless now with my guard down
Won't you take me away

Hoping to see these imprints of me
That I leave behind but please don't cry
I guess selfishness has consumed my life
To give it up with no regret in mind
Once I'm gone there is no coming back
Would it matter anyway...anyway

Once I'm gone there is no coming back
Would it matter anyway
It just still feels the same
Once I'm gone there is no coming back
Defenseless now with my guard down
Won't you take me away
