Made me throw this fight

I tried to throw it away, I tried to burn it like a photograph But when I close my eyes, I see it in my mind Like it's happening I got so good at the game, No one could tell that I was faking sane (faking sane) I guess I still survived, but this grudge was mine I couldn't bear to watch it shine Did it clear your conscience? Did it clear your mind? If you don't feel what you cheated, lied and steal Is that still dishonesty? (For every positive, there is a negative) I used up my honesty I'll tell you honestly I could only give you so much And from what you said to me Now you're dead to me, You're dead to me I'm sleeping miles away, I'm hiding out in this shrine I made And if it keeps me safe Well I'd fall from grace Then I'll take this space My skinny fingers are bare I'm taking everything off my back (off my back) If our skins the sin I'm desiring This is where we'll both begin Did it clear your conscience? Did it clear your mind? If you still feel what you cheated, lied and steal Is that still integrity? I used up my honesty I'll tell you honestly I could only give you so much And from what you said to me Now you're dead to me 'Cause you've used me as your crutch Is everywhere that I've seen Everywhere that I've been? I can't help it, it's become a part of me I used up my honesty Now you're dead to me You're dead to me You lost your dignity And my conformity

One moment of losing yourself Put me through hell And cost me my whole life

Second chances are weapons A loaded gun underneath the bed Second chances are weapons It's turned on you in the end

I used up my honesty
I'll tell you honestly
I could only give you so much
And from what you said to me
Now you're dead to me
'Cause you've used me as your crutch

It's spinning me like the wind
Every decision I'm in
Choose my direction like I'm drowning in your sin
I used up my honesty
Now you're dead to me
You're dead to me

(This was my second chance, This was my second chance)

This was my second chance
To make it right again
This was my second chance
To take a stand
This was my second chance
To never look back
This was my second chance
To live again
