

Best friend

Skarface

This story's about a guy whose name was Bob,
And was supposed to be my friend
Born in the same town, we went to school together,
For all these years he was my friend
But suddenly something happened,
That made me change my point of view
Something he did, something nasty,
Something he could have done to you!
Susy is gone now, she left away with my best friend Betrayed don't know how, don't want to mess with them again
Without respect, he took what I love most, he took my one and only pearl
Without thinking of just what I can feel, he fools me for my own girlfriend
What should I do, how can I do, was I the one who was to blame?
The honesty is what I fight for, but now could it really be the same?
This story's about two blokes I knew,
Who were supposed to be my friends
Born in the same town, we went to school together,
For all these years they were my friends
But suddenly something happened,
That made me change my point of view
Something they did, something nasty,
Something they could have done to you!
