

Boulevard of Broken Hearts

Slash

You struggle night and day
My shooting star, my burning flame
How many dues you've paid
But now the world is yours to take

You thunder screaming out
You can't have any doubt at all

It's time to heed the call
Of all you are, of all you are
Stand up and find resolve
On the boulevard of broken hearts

Remember long ago
You were so young, how could you know
This long and winding road
Will lead you here, but you're almost home

What we endure in time
Will in the end just make us strong

It's time to heed the call
Of all you are, of all you are
Stand up and find resolve
On the boulevard of broken hearts

Believe in what you seek and what you want
Just to find it
Believe in what you see, my shooting star
This is your time

You struggle night and day
My shooting star, my burning flame
How many dues you've paid
But now the world is yours to take

It's time to heed the call
Of all you are, of all you are
Stand up and find resolve
On the boulevard of broken hearts

On the boulevard of broken hearts
On the boulevard of broken hearts
