Withered Delilah

You are the clown for what you are You had to break out every trick you could pull But there comes a time when everything must turn off

Back to the start again Back to the place where you come from

Stuck out of view My withered delilah You know it's true that no one cares anymore Stuck out of view You had your time But now your moment is all but gone

Oh it's gone

Lost in a daze What have you done? Diggin' a grave to be your own You're soon to fade But just too blind to let go Of what you had And what you were Irrelevance hurts but you're not alone

Stuck out of view My withered delilah You know it's true that no one cares anymore Stuck out of view You had your time But now your moment is all but gone

So pack your diamond rings All your pretty things And just move along 'Cause there's always somebody else to replace you When you are gone

(When you are gone, Hey yeah)

Stuck out of view My withered delilah You know it's true that no one cares anymore Stuck out of view You had your time But now your moment is all but gone

Stuck out of view My withered delilah You know it's true that no one cares anymore Stuck out of view You had your time But now your moment is all but gone

The moment is all but gone The moment is all but gone Oh 11 s gone
