

Tears Of Joy

Slow Club

Back in the summer
You said it was cracked
But you didn't want it
But you wanted it bad
And the air is no good here
But you think you'll come back

And you needed a doorway
You needed to see
What happens when you give yourself back to me
And to rest on a moon beam
And hope no-one sees

All your
Tears, tears, tears of joy
Tears, tears, tears of joy
Well I'm holding you hard
And I'm ready to stay
If you gave me your heart
I'm ready oh oh I'm ready for it

In the concert hall screaming
You took a bow
From the floor to the ceiling
The curtain came down
And I wrote all my dreams in
The dust on the ground

Forget that old future
The future is dead
It'll twist and turn all
The thoughts in your head
Until you feel seasick
While you're laid on your bed
Drying all of those

Tears, tears, tears of joy
Tears, tears, tears of joy
Well I'm holding you hard
And I'm ready to stay
If you gave me your heart
I'm ready oh oh I'm ready for it

It's never gonna be the same
If it was easy would you feel this way?
Now there's nothing left for us to do
Except for you to be good to me
And me be good to you

Tears, tears, tears of joy
Tears, tears, tears of joy
Well I'm holding you hard
If you gave me your heart

Well I'm holding you hard

And I'm ready to stay
If you gave me your heart
I'm ready oh oh I'm ready for it
