

Higher

Smash Into Pieces

Take it higher
Take it higher
Take it higher

You think your life is over now
It's nothing but a bad, bad dream
Afraid to lose it all somehow
And you don't know what it means

There's no telling how it all will end up now
But you can't quit now
When you gonna feel it don't hold it back inside

If you wanna take it higher
You will set your mind on fire
When the heart is burning and you feel like turning
Light up, light it up
And take it higher
Take it higher
Take it higher

You think your life's a waste of time
Tick tock then you fall behind
Try to live while you're alive
Nothing is holding you down

There's no given how we all should live our lives
But you can't quit now
When you're gonna feel it just keep the dream alive

If you wanna take it higher
You will set your mind on fire
When the heart is burning
And you feel like turning
Light up, light it up
If you wanna take it higher
You will set your mind on fire
Drowning your devotion deeper than the ocean
Light up, light it up
And take it higher
Take it higher
Take it higher

There is something else
Always on your mind, always on the line, this life
It's not always what you want it to be
But you, got what it takes

There's a voice in your head
Saying it's just pretend
There's a choice and it's all
Up to you, where you go

If you wanna take it higher
You will set your mind on fire
When the heart is burning and you feel like turning
Light up, light it up

If you wanna take it higher
You will set your mind on fire
Drowning your devotion deeper than the ocean
Light up, light it up
And take it (higher)
