

Can you feel your heartbeat, are you living?
Your mind is unsung because you're not driven
You need to rise up and personalize your existence
You need to wake up and activate the dreams of your soul
Idle, revolt, hero, your hero is yourself they'll break you in,

They'll break you down and leave you down with nothing
You lose yourself and learn from them
Whatever they wish to teach you
You need to rise up and revolutionize your thinking
You need to wake up and activate the dreams of your soul
Idle, revolt, hero, your hero is yourself
You know your dead and its you your deceiving
You need to find a way, to yourself, find a way,
To make yourself live, to make yourself live
You need to rise up and revolutionize your thinking
You need to wake up and activate the dreams of your soul
You need to find a way to make your self live
