

Gathering
All the hidden keys
Turning rocks to diamonds

I'll lead you in
I will make it easy now
Turn unrest to comfort

By my side
You may close your eyes
And I'll be your guidance

Come suffering
Let me be your medicine
Lay your hopes on me

We're hunting blind and aimless
Embracing gods to feel their light
We fell from grace right into the unknown

I believe
That in the end we could be something more
But every trace of who we are is gone
Still I hope we could be the ones, be the ones

And I see
How we surrender for the endless greed
And we do nothing to prevent its spear
To keep piercing into our hearts, our hearts

Open eyes
Unveil the disguise
Of the friendly imposter

Who lures you in
Wearing a warmhearted grin
To leech off your vein

We are done
Feeding the machine
Losing trail of our only home

We're hunting blind and aimless
Embracing gods to feel their light
We fell from hope right into the unknown

A day will come
A time to deal with what we did
And our pride will crumble down on us

Someday we'll scream
To raise our voice for our belief
Together we can change the fate of all

I believe
That in the end we could be something more
But every trace of who we are is gone

Still I hope we could be the ones, be the ones

And I see

How we surrender for the endless greed

And we do nothing to prevent its spear

To keep piercing into our hearts, our hearts,

Our hearts