

Calling Out

SOiL

you tried to carry this on your shoulders
how do you expect make it all alone there's no reason to insist pushing further

i can take away your fear
i can make it disappear

call out my name
I'll be there for you
call out my name
I'll be there

a picture paints a thousand words like the silence
to sacrifice yourself it's not the way things should be open arms are raging out I'm coming for you now

i can take away your fear

call out my name
I'll be there for you
call out my name
I'll be there

call out my name
and i will serve you
call out my name
I'll be there, yeah

each day you break arms stronger no matter what cloud you're under offering yourself to this it's not the way it's not the way into there

call out my name
i will save you
call out my name
I'll be there

call out my name
i will be there for you
call out my name
I'll be there

call out my name

call out my name
I'll be there
