

I Despise You

Solar Fake

So I play along and I stand aside
And I turn away, try not to collide
With the strength to fear, am I paranoid...
...'cause it doesn't feel like I'm yet destroyed?
And I cannot move but I want to leave
Away from simple goals I can never achieve
Now you look to me, but what is your plan?
Is it good enough, what am I waiting for?

For gods, for escape or just a way to guide me out...
...of this, of here?
Still I just want to kill them all...

But all that my hell comprises
Benevolent compromises
And I really despise you
Bad enough, not to fuck it up
What's with your cliched surprises?
And where is your plain advice right now?
Oh, I really despise you
Bad enough, not to fuck it up

And I watch my steps, creeping carefully
Make my frozen heart beat in your frequency
What's the next move you'll make?
I'm left in the dark
As if all the weight will become a spark
To ignite a flame that could burn them down
And no backup left when I turn around
It's not all on me, but my mind is set
And it brought us here
To the place where it all commenced

No gods, no escape and not a way to lead us out...
...of this, of here
Still I just want to kill them all...

But all that my hell comprises
Benevolent compromises
And I really despise you
Bad enough, not to fuck it up
What's with your cliched surprises?
And where is your plain advice right now?
Oh, I really despise you
Bad enough, not to fuck it up

And I really despise you
Bad enough, not to fuck it up
Oh, I really despise you
Bad enough not to fuck it up

But all that my hell comprises
Benevolent compromises
And I really despise you
Bad enough, not to fuck it up
What's with your cliched surprises?
And where is your plain advice right now?

Oh, I really despise you
Bad enough, not to fuck it up

Bad enough, not to fuck it up
Enough, not to fuck it up
