

Implode

Solar Fake

Another kick in the face and this pain in your head
Again you're lost in the chase
You always pick up the dirt when you try to be smart
But in the end you'll get hurt

And it's not okay with you
It is really not okay
But you've got used to losing
The things you wanted the most

Then you implode again with every word you kept in mind
'Cause it's hard enough
To duck down from explosions everywhere
You implode again and all the plans you kept in mind
Will only fall apart and move out of your reach
And leave you...

Things you tried to forget and erase from your brain
Keep returning instead
And when they push you around
You'll respond with a smile while you die on the ground

And it's not okay with you
It is really not okay
But you got so tired of losing
Everything you want the most

Then you implode again with every word you kept in mind
'Cause it's hard enough
To duck down from explosions everywhere
You implode again and all the plans you kept in mind
Will only fall apart and move out of your reach
And leave you...

The cuts, so deep, you fall alone
You cannot keep what you don't own
Unless you sleep and dream alone
Unless you sleep and dream alone
The cuts, so deep
The cuts, so deep
The cuts, so deep, you fall alone
The cuts, so deep
The cuts, so deep
You're gonna weep and die alone

Then you implode again with every word you kept in mind
'Cause it's hard enough
To duck down from explosions everywhere
You implode again and all the plans you kept in mind
Will only fall apart and move out of your reach
And leave you behind

With every word you kept in mind
You duck down from explosions everywhere
You implode again and all the plans you kept in mind
Will only fall apart and move out of your reach
And leave you behind
