

It's Who You Are

Solar Fake

I won't let you into my head
I won't let you fuel my anger
So many tears left unshed
What if I raised the anchor?

And all those words in a line
Prepare to spread the poison
Without a chance to confine
What's made us strong, destroys us

You never let me forget
There's never been a reason
For any candid regrets
There's no time for smiles and pleasing
I got used to falsehood and lies
It's not worth the fight or wrangle
Perspective sometimes implies
A view from a different angle

Fears uncontrolled, so do what you're told
And keep yourself down and watch me as I drown

It's all in your sight, but you're blinded by the night
So I'll switch off the light

'Cause this is who you are
And this is how you fall
And this is what you get
I wish we'd never met
'Cause it's just who you are
You looked stronger from afar
And this is how you crawl
'Cause that's just who you are

I won't let you fuck with my brain
I don't care if you will hate me
'Cause I'll break your rules anyway
'Cause I stopped pursuing you lately

I just want you out of my mind
But I never will forget you
You wanted me to resign
You know, I nearly let you win

Fears uncontrolled, so do what you're told
And keep yourself down and watch me as I drown

It's all in your sight, but you're blinded by the night
So I'll switch off the light

'Cause this is who you are
And this is how you fall
And this is what you get
I wish we'd never met
'Cause it's just who you are
You looked stronger from afar
And this is how you crawl

'Cause that's just who you are

It's who you are

Who you are

It's who you are, oh

'Cause it's just who you are

You looked stronger from afar

And this is how you crawl

'Cause that's just who you are
