Back to Life

Blinded by the sunlight The hole was dark and cold I feel the warmth of energy Running through my blood

The void I left behind me Long time has been my home Rising from the ashes I walked the path alone

Back to life now I'm alive Father I know, I'm live

Living in a prison Black is in my mind Unchain my soul and cry aloud I'm here, I've come to life

Silent screams to nowhere The echoes of the past I promise you that never I will never die again Soulitude
