

Nothing is Gained and Nothing is Lost

Soulitude

Easy comes and easy goes
Some will rise and some will fall
There's one thing that you should know
We're not immortal after all

Nothing is gained
And nothing is lost
The wheel keeps turning so harsh from the Past
Nothing is gained
And nothing is lost
Ashes to ashes and dust will be dust

Look at yourself in the mirror
You're nothing but flesh and bones
No one will cry for your dying
The day when were all Dead and gone

Well gather again somewhere we've been before
Non-existence has always been our home