

Nowhere to Hide

Soulitude

In the early days some few were dead by a strange disease
No one could imagine what was coming next
Across the valleys and the hills, across the 7 seas
The infection spreaded all around from west to east

Chaos breaks out in the town
And the crowd pray for salvation
People dying in the ground
We won't see the dawn of another day

Nowhere to hide, nowhere to run,
Nature spoke, end of mankind
Nowhere to hide, nowhere to run
It's time for us to say goodbye

What is it? Where did it come?
No time to wonder why
Punishment from heaven or a gift from hell
Was it written in our fate?
A master plan of God?
Or just a transition to another stage?

Ravens flying in the sky
Reek of death and haze of sorrow
The reaper's staring at your eyes
Obey the call, it is time to die
