

We Rise

Soulitude

Long before you walked the Earth
Long before you bring us death
We were living in a perfect balance

Then they came from outer space
To release a new incoming race
We were bounded to leave our own lands

The moon is witness to all the pain you brought
But now the fortune's on our side
A new horizon and a new hope for us all

Reconquest has begun, the dawn of human kind

We rise from the dust of time
We rise from beneath the stone
We rise from the frozen rime
To proclaim our throne

Banished then from the earth and seas
Forced to live in secrecy
Centuries in hiding stagnation

Down the underworld we stayed
The day has come we're are not afraid
We are rising with no hesitation

Is it hard to comprehend?
The beginning of your end
The sun will shine for us
And you will die out

We rise from the dust of time
We rise from beneath the stone
We rise from the frozen rime
To proclaim our throne
