

Eyes Of A Child

South Park

The eyes of a child, so innocent and pure
A child's heart is full of song
Take their tiny hand,
And lead them to the light
As Adults we see the pain in the world,
And it sometimes don't seem right

Through the eyes of a child
The world seems magical
There's a sparkle in their eyes,
They've yet to realise,
The darkness in their soul
The beauty of their smile
Adventurous and wild
Life is kinda gay
But it doesn't seem that way
Through the eyes of a child

So, don't give up
Even when the road seems long
Just find that child inside you
(Yeah, you've gotta find you!)
Spread your wings and fly, to the brightest star
If you want, I can even get my friend Steve
To detail your car for like twenty bucks.

Through the eyes of a child
The world seems magical
There's a sparkle in their eyes,
They've yet to realise,
The darkness in their soul
The beauty of their smile
Adventurous and wild.
Sure, life is kinda gay,
But it doesn't seem that way,
Through the eyes of a child

Got an eye on my hand, I've got an eye on my hand
I've got an eye on my hand, but still I can't find you
Eye on my hand, where have you gone girl?
Eye on my hand, I'm coming up behind you
Eye on my hand, don't turn around now
Cos I'm right there, I'm coming up behind you

Through the eyes of a child
The world seems magical
There's a sparkle in their eyes,
They've yet to realise,
The bastards they really are
The beauty of their smile
Adventurous and wild
Sure, life is kinda gay,
But it doesn't seem that way,
Through the eyes of a child

Sure, life is kinda gay
But it doesn't seem that way
