

She Wants You To

Sponge Cola

You've got to get her out of here
She's stuck in photographs
And worlds of make believe
She's tied tight tonight she sleeps
They laid her on the bed
And hid her well, discreet

Try as she might
She's tried her best not
To get carried away
This time

She wants you to
She wants you to
She wants you to know
She wants you to
She wants you to
She wants you to know

She tosses, turns, and turns into Anything you want and Everything you'd never be
Why do we stay for those who'd rather go?
But the world would never know
That I'd rather be with you

She would like to hear the mention of her name
(Don't you even dare to say you're sorry)
You can't deny her captivating 'Yes'
(Even though you never really did)
Believe that she is where she wants to be
It's you she wants to.

Try as she might
She's tried her best not
To get carried away
This time

She wants you to
She wants you to
She wants you to know
She wants you to
She wants you to
She wants you to know

You can break the fence (She wants you to)
You can break the fourth wall (She wants you to)
You can break me down (She wants you to know)
And make me your own

Would you take a chance (She wants you to)
Could you share her downfall? (She wants you to)
You can break her down (She wants you to know)
To make her your own

You can break the fence (She wants you to)
You can break the fourth wall (She wants you to)

You can break me down (She wants you to know)
And make me your own
