

For All the Drugs in the World

Sponge

With all the drugs in the world you are never alone
Though people make you sick for all the drugs in the world
With all the drugs in the world everything is yes
And life is always fun from all the drugs in the world

And I know my condition is real
And I know my addiction is clear
As all the drugs in the world

With all the drugs in the world people know your name
They want to give you more of all the drugs in the world
With all the drugs in the world you always think out loud
Your head's a fucking mess from all the drugs in the world

And I know my condition is real
And I know my addiction is clear
As all the drugs in the world
And as all the drugs in the world

And I know my condition is real
And I know my addiction's all clear
As all the drugs in the world (2x)

With all the drugs in the world you never change your clothes
Though people kiss your ass for all the drugs in the world
With all the drugs in the world someone gets your back
And nothing turns to shit like all the drugs in the world
The world (2x)
