

What's That You Say

Sprung Monkey

I see those empty spaces wandering round and round
Talking to themselves talking to the ground
We all know we're Six feet from our grave
But do you really care if your soul is saved
What's that you say
I know you're young and I know you're not afraid
What's that you say
But when it's time to go is that what you'll say
I'm not afraid
I fear the thought when you finally realize
All alone in your head all alone inside
What's that you say
I knew a Man who was hanging on the edge
Falling to his knees with every word he said
And then on day the miracle Took
If not that empty space would have swallowed him up
What's that you say
I know you're young and I know you're not afraid
What's that you say
But when it's time to go is that when you'll say
I'm not afraid
I fear the thought when you finally realize
What's that you say
I know sometimes it's hard to read between lies
But there's a truth that sanity denies
Some people say that it's all left up to chance
But you can't undermine what you don't understand
What's that you say
I know you're young and I know you're not afraid
What's that you say
But when it's time to go is that what you'll say
I'm not afraid
I fear the thought when you finally realize
All alone in your head all alone inside
What's that you say
