So Wrong

Stabbing Westward

Wasted thoughts of you Desperate prayers to you Give me back my mind I'm empty inside What have I become? Every fix undone A candle burns here in your honor My soul, a shrine I've built for you I've got nothing left inside me There's nothing left inside but you

Can't seem to pretend This night needs to end I can't fill this hole You are all I know

It's so wrong that I need you It's so wrong that I need abuse It's so wrong that I need you So wrong that I'm scared I'll die alone
